FOURTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

29th January 2023

Gospel

Matthew 5:1-12a

Seeing the crowds, Jesus went up the hill. There he sat down and was joined by his disciples. Then he began to speak. This is what he taught them:

'How happy are the poor in spirit;
theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Happy the gentle:

they shall have the earth for their heritage.

Happy those who mourn:

they shall be comforted.

Happy those who hunger and thirst for what is right:

they shall be satisfied.

Happy the merciful:

they shall have mercy shown them.

Happy the pure in heart:

they shall see God.

Happy the peacemakers:

they shall be called sons of God.

Happy those who are persecuted in the cause of right:

theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

'Happy are you when people abuse you and persecute you and speak all kinds of calumny against you on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven.'

Sycamore Course. Over the next 7 weeks or so, a group of between 14 and 16 young-ish adults will be embarking on a course called Sycamore as a way of exploring their faith more deeply. Please keep them all in your prayers.

Pope Francis Angelus 22nd January 2023

This address fell on the Sunday of the Word of God, which the Holy Father instituted in 2019 as a way to promote the study of Sacred Scripture. The Pope presided over the Mass for the Day, whose theme this year is a verse from John's Gospel, "We proclaim to you what we have seen" (1 Jn 1:3), on Sunday morning in St. Peter's Basilica. The aim of the celebration is to give new life to the responsibility of all believers to deepen their knowledge of Sacred Scripture.

Like the first disciples During the Angelus address, the Holy Father spoke about the gratification that comes from being willing to "step away" from that which distracts us, in order to follow Jesus and stay with Him. Today's Gospel reading according to St. Matthew narrated the call of the first disciples who, along the lake of Galilee leave everything to follow Jesus. When we hear in the Gospel of Matthew how they "immediately left their nets and followed Him" (v. 20), the Pope recalled that, in that decision, everything changed.

Leaving, in order to follow "This is the moment of a decisive encounter with Jesus, one they would remember their entire lives and would be included in the Gospel. From then on, they follow Jesus. And in order to follow Him, they leave." To follow requires 'leaving,' the Pope stressed. "It is always like this with Jesus," he noted, observing that sometimes it can begin in some way, with a sense of attraction, perhaps due to others. Then, he continued, that awareness can become more personal and can kindle a light in the heart, and "becomes something beautiful to share." "You know, that passage from the Gospel struck me.... That service opportunity I had struck me...." This is what happened with the first disciples," he said, adding, "But sooner or later, the moment comes in which it is necessary to leave so as to follow."

The courage to set forth "That is when it is necessary to make a decision: Shall I leave behind some certainties and embark on a new adventure, or shall I remain where I am?" This, he said, is a decisive moment for every Christian because the meaning of everything else is at stake here. If someone does not find the courage to set out on the journey, the risk is to remain a spectator of one's own existence and to live the faith halfway. To stay with Jesus, therefore, requires the courage to leave. "To leave what? Our vices and our sins, certainly, which are like anchors that hold us at bay and prevent us from setting sail. But it is also necessary to leave behind what holds us back from living fully, such as fear, selfish calculations, the guarantees that come from staying safe, just getting by." He said it also means giving up the time "wasted on so many useless things."

Let's ask ourselves The Holy Father then asked those before Him and following, to ask themselves to whether they remember a "strong moment" in which they have "already encountered Jesus," and whether there is something beautiful and significant that happened in their lives because of which "they left other less important things." "And today, is there something Jesus is calling me to give up? What are the material things, ways of thinking, attitudes I need to leave behind to say 'yes' to Him?"

Summary of General Audience of Pope Francis 25th January 2023

Dear brothers and sisters: In our continuing catechesis on apostolic zeal, the desire to share with others the joy of the Gospel, we now consider how Jesus himself, our Teacher and Master, chose to present his message. In the synagogue of Nazareth, at the very beginning of his public ministry, the Lord revealed that, in fulfilment of the prophecy of Isaiah, he came to proclaim good news to the poor and a year of favour from the Lord (cf. Lk 4:16-21). The Gospel of Jesus Christ is thus, as the prophet foretold, a saving message that brings contagious joy, authentic freedom, the promise of spiritual rebirth as God's beloved sons and daughters, and definitive healing from the oppression of sin and death. We who, by God's grace, have put our faith in Jesus and experienced the transformative power of his word, are called not only to give thanks for this wondrous gift, but also to share it freely and joyfully with others. For Christ's followers, every day is thus a "time of grace" and a new opportunity to bear witness to the "good news" of God's gracious offer of mercy, forgiveness and new life in Jesus his beloved Son.

Retrouvaille – A Lifeline for Married Couples

Retrouvaille: A Programme for Couples Struggling in their Marriages:

Help Your Marriage – Do you feel alone? Are you frustrated or angry with each other? Do you argue ... or have you just stopped talking to each other? Does talking about it only make it worse? Retrouvaille is a programme to support couples who have difficulties in their marriage. It brings a positive focus, new hope and helps nourish and grow your marriage. Tens of thousands of couples headed for divorce have successfully saved their marriages by attending and using the tools provided. The programme helps spouses uncover or re-awaken the love, trust and commitment that originally brought them together. It helps them through difficult times whether they are disillusioned or in deep misery. There is no group therapy or group work. For confidential information about 'Retrouvaille' or to register for the next programme commencing with a Face to Face weekend in Welwyn Garden City on 24 - 26 February 2023, or a Virtual weekend on 6 - 9 July 2023, call or text 07887 296983 or 07973 380443 or email retrouvailleukinfo@gmail.com - or visit www.retrouvaille.org.uk

Commons HSC Committee Launches Inquiry into Assisted Suicide

The House of Commons Health and Social Care Committee has launched an Inquiry into assisted suicide, and is inviting comments from individual members of the public and interested organisations to comment, and also to suggest what actions might be helpful for the debate. Options include a "Citizens' Assembly", further independent research, or a referendum.

Assisted suicide presents profound dangers to public safety and the common good, and so it is crucial that as many people as possible engage with the Parliamentary Inquiry and oppose the introduction of assisted suicide into UK law.

It is especially important that those who respond should oppose the idea of a "Citizens' Assembly" or referendum on this issue, as these are easily abused to try to legalise assisted suicide.

The timeframe for answering the consultation is a short one. Submissions must be in by Friday 20 January but happily the format of the Inquiry is simple, and not time-consuming – just six questions. To aid public engagement, the Anscombe Bioethics Centre has produced a short two-page Briefing (also attached) to help anyone interested in responding, whether as an individual or as an organisation.

We encourage as many people as possible to contribute their own submission to the Inquiry, so as to inform public and Parliamentary debate, and help maintain a more just and compassionate society.

Anyone with any questions can contact the Anscombe Centre at admin@bioethics.co.uk.

Vocations Weekend for Women - Theme: Discerning God's Call in your life. Dates: 3-5 Feb 2023. Location: London

The weekend is organised by the Sisters, Faithful Companions of Jesus (FCJ). Jesus invites each of us to 'Come and See' - this weekend will give the opportunity to explore the vocation to religious life and to reflect on God's call to you.
